

Investigating the brain activity of the cognitive deficits in Mild Cognitive Impairment

Are you over 60, and still as sharp as a tack?

The Western Sydney University is conducting a research study that aims to increase our understanding of the brain activity associated with the healthy memory and thinking processes that occur as we age. If you are interested in being a research participant, or know someone who you think may be interested please read on:

We are looking for participants who are:

- Over 60 years old
- Able to think and reason clearly and effectively
- Non-smokers
- Right-handed
- Suffer from no serious health conditions
