

Investigating the brain activity of the cognitive deficits in Mild Cognitive Impairment

Do you have memory problems?

The Western Sydney University is conducting a research study that aims to increase our understanding of the brain activity associated with problems in memory and thinking that occur as we age. If you are interested in being a research participant, or know someone who you think may be interested please read on:

We are looking for participants who are:

- Over 60 years old
- Experiencing problems with memory and/or thinking
- Not diagnosed with dementia
- Non-smokers
- Right-handed
- Not suffering from any serious health conditions
